Asean chartered professional accountant application form

NOTICE: In accordance with the Accounting Professional Supervisory Board, please refer to the cover page template for your ACPA application. The cover page and other required documents should be inserted into the Transparent White Clear Book (Legal size). ASEAN CPA Cover Page: We now have one of our representatives to enter the ASEAN CPA registry. Check out No. 21 out of a total of 39 ASEAN CPAs from the Philippines as of October 31, 2019. Click here and select Philippines: APPLY for ASEAN CPAThe 120 CPD units of training you receive from Accelera can be utilized in the application for an ASEAN Chartered Professional Accountant (ASEAN CPA) title. The ASEAN CPA title is available to ASEAN citizens with qualifications and experience consistent with the ASEAN Mutual Recognition Arrangement on Accounting Services (MRAA). Click here to check our 120 CPD Units Bundle (smaller bundles are also available). Benefits of being an ASEAN CPAASEAN CPAs can legally provide accounting services in ASEAN markets without having to undergo extensive re-election or re-election procedures. Note, however, that this excludes the signing of the independent auditor's report and the fact that certain accounting services requiring domestic licensing from the host country are responsible. Adding the ASEAN CPA title to your name and resuming, opens up a whole new world of possibilities for you as a CPA. You get access to the market to the rest of ASEAN, which is one of the hottest growth regions in the global economy. ELIGIBILITY RequirementsThere is no qualifying qualification for the ASEAN CPA title. There are only a number of eligibility requirements for the applicant, namely:Completed an accredited accounting examPassed CPA Board examPossess a current and valid Certificate of Registration and Professional Identification CardForknämt relevant, practical experience of no less than 3 years, cumulatively, within a five (5) year after graduation and passing the CPA Board exam.Compliant with CPD requirements has been issued a Certification for ACPA Application by PICPA (i.e. a PICPA member in good standing with any pending case with the Ethics Board)Has been issued a certificate of no pending court case of PRC steps in the application for ASEAN CPAWe tried to apply for ASEANA themselves. Below are the steps based on our actual experience:Step 1. Get NBI Clearance. To book an appointment online you can click here. Step 2. Get PICPA certification for ACPA enrollment. PICPA will then issue you the certificate for ACPA Registration. Based on our personal experience, this took us a waiting period of 7 days (lead time depends on the availability of PICPA signatories). Step 3. Get no pending case from prc legal department. PRC Legal will then issue you the certificate of No pending case. We were able to secure this within minutes of submitting the request (lead time depends on the availability of Legal signatories). Step 4. Get CPD Compliance Certificates from the PRC CPD Division. Submit the Accomplished Letter Request (PRC Form_CPD Certificate of Compliance Request Letter.jpg)Submit photocopies of your CPD certificates over the past 3 years – which must total at least 120 CPD devices and meet minimum required devices per area of competence. The PRC asked us to note the Accreditation Number (PAN) program on the photocopy of each certificate. You can find the program's accreditation number in PRC's official list of accredited programs. Click here to find your PANs in our summary list. You can also click here to directly check with the China list. We received the certificate of CPD compliance from China after a month. Step 5.
